The Rev. Dr. David Holyan, Pastor
In Need of a Reset

There have been times in my life when I’ve found myself in need of a complete ‘reset’. When I recognize that I feel quagmired by seemingly unmanageable demands and persistent bad habits, I simply need to stop, breathe, climb out of the quagmire and start fresh. So I was wondering: are there any scripture passages that encourage a ‘reset’? Here are two I found.

Acts 3:19-20
Repent therefore, and turn to God so that your sins may be wiped out, so that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, and that he may send the Messiah appointed for you, that is, Jesus...

AND

Isaiah 43:18-19
Do not remember the former things, or consider the things of old. I am about to do a new thing; now it springs forth, do you not perceive it? I will make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the desert.

In the passage from Acts, I read, “Reset therefore…” then passage is an invitation to stop, erase all the craziness, and ground myself in the blessing of God’s presence within and around me. I read the passage from Isaiah as an invitation to stop wallowing in pity, sorrow, etc. and a preparation for hope. It also reminds me that the work of growth and refreshment are the work of the Spirit within me. While I need to cooperate with the Spirit's work, it is the Spirit's work, not mine.

I offer these two passages and this brief reflection for those times when you feel too crowded inside (or out), when life keeps moving at a pace you aren't able or don't want to sustain. While the world screams, “Go, Go, Go!” and you find yourself going in circles, these two passages invite you to step out of the habitual craziness and attend to restorative work of God within and around you.

Peace,

David

The Rev. Dr. Karen Blanchard, Associate Pastor

Last week the news was full of remembrances of the moon landing that took place so many seasons ago. I found myself thinking of a night fifty years ago with my family in Innsbrook, Austria, when we sat in a darkened hotel lobby where people literally from all over the world joined together to witness the first steps made by a human on the moon. I was struck by the fact that though we spoke many different languages, we were all united in a moment of awe and wonder as thousands of miles away three courageous people went to be where no other earthlings had been before. As we all looked up at the moon in the nights that followed it was hard to imagine that this all took place on that white disk shining in the night, and that the earth itself is just a small speck of the beauty in our expanding universe.

A few years later I had the chance to see the space suit worn by Neil Armstrong on the moon. My friend’s father was the official NASA artist who was asked to commemorate the event in both stamps and drawings. Again I was struck by the fact that the suit hanging in his art studio was something that had touched the moon. I was awed by seeing something that had been in a place where I will never be able to go.

I was reminded of the poetic beauty of that first chapter of Genesis that expresses the wise and ancient awareness of the roles of water and wind, and sun and moon. These things work together providing beauty, food and shelter, the rhythm of the seasons and life—moonlight and starlight, sunlight and fire that provides light in the darkness of the night and bringing forth plants and trees in the light of the day.

The words of Psalm 8 speak of the relationship between God, humanity and all of creation:

When I look at your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars that you have established; what are human beings that you are mindful of them, mortals that you care for them?

I found myself thinking of the words attributed to God when creating all that has come to be; the feeling of saying “yes, yes” to the words “God saw it was good.” In this season when new life grows all around us may we remember our call to tend and care for this gift of creation. The earth is our gift to be cherished, cared for and tended as part of the garden of all our lives. We are called to care for it in the ways that God, the creator of all life, cares about and for us.

Praise God from whom all our blessings flow,

Karen
A MONTH OF SUNDAYS

August 4, 2019 - 8th Sunday after Pentecost
Sermon: “One In Christ” - The Rev. Dr. David Holyan

In this passage in Colossians, Paul talks about taking off the old ways of living and putting on the ‘new self’ of faith in Jesus Christ. We are to rid ourselves of “anger, wrath, malice, slander, and abusive language...” and cloth ourselves in a more peaceful and loving way of relating to others. We will explore the process of this spiritual transformation and celebrate our unity in Christ.

August 11, 2019 - 9th Sunday after Pentecost
Sermon: “Do Not Be Afraid” - The Rev. Dr. David Holyan

This Sunday we have another opportunity to hear again the words of faith: “Do not be afraid.” Doubt is not the opposite of faith; fear is. In this passage from Luke we will hear again how Jesus wants us to live our lives; what it means to live without fear.

August 18, 2019 - 10th Sunday after Pentecost
Sermon: “High Expectations” - The Rev. Dr. Karen Blanchard
Scriptures: Hosea 11:1-11 and Isaiah 1, selected verses

The readings from the prophet Isaiah often speak with difficult words of punishment and issues of wickedness. Yet there is always the balance of hope and tender love of a God who sees us as God’s children. The call to faithfulness is about living lives with integrity, mercy, compassion and justice.

August 25, 2019 - 11th Sunday after Pentecost
The Rev. Dr. Tom Glenn

Rev. Glenn is currently in France but will be with us in the pulpit on this Sunday.

From the Director of Music Ministries

Like it or not, we are neck in deep in planning the 2019-2020 program year. Although I will squeeze every bit of summer out of the next few weeks, we are gearing up for regular rehearsals to begin in the next 4-6 weeks, which means now is the time for each of you to consider how you can be a part of our amazing ministry of music.

Do you love to sing and enjoy the company of some fine people? Chancel Choir is for you! If singing isn't your forte, then perhaps one of our wonderful Bell Choirs is the place to share your gifts. Do you have a child/ren between 5 and 18 years of age? We will have a place for them to sing or ring this Fall! Do you have a band or orchestra instrument gathering dust in a closet at home? Get it out and join the Church Orchestra!

No gift or talent is too small. The beauty and joy of our many choirs is the coming together of all voices and bells into one song of praise. If you are interested, have questions, or would like more information about our ministry, please contact me at bstein@kirkwoodpres.org or Travis at tevans@kirkwoodpres.org. There is room for everyone at our table!

Faithfully yours,
Bill

Our students are very grateful for your support of our trip this summer. Shareholders will be invited to our Dessert on August 4th.

Pictorial Directory Update

The photo sessions for the 2019 Church Directory will begin in less than two weeks. The dates for photos are Tuesday, August 13th – Saturday, August 17th, and again from Tuesday, September 3rd – Saturday, September 7th. Hours on Tuesdays – Fridays are 2 to 9 p.m., and on Saturdays 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. All photos will be taken on the lower level of the church, near the choir room.

Many of you have already scheduled appointments – thanks so much! If you have not done so yet, you can sign up at church on the next few Sundays. There will be a table near the welcome center before and after worship. Please stop by and make an appointment.

If you prefer, you can make your own appointment by visiting this Lifetouch website: https://booknow-lifetouch.appointment-plus.com/yrb9t6k6/. This site is specifically for our church. It is simple to use – you just enter the number of people in your group, select your date and time from those available, and then enter your contact information. (You will have to create an account with Lifetouch – just a username and password – so you can change your appointment if necessary. It is fast and easy!) The website will be available Monday afternoons through Saturdays. It is not available Sundays and Monday mornings so that we can enter the appointments scheduled in person at church on Sunday mornings.

We will also need volunteers to help during the photo sessions. Volunteer sign-up sheets will be available at the appointment table on Sunday mornings. It is not difficult – we just need people to check in people as they arrive for their session and to help keep the schedule moving. It will give you a chance to greet friends and meet new people. So if you can give a couple of hours on the days listed above, please sign up!

If you have further questions, please contact George Durnell at durnell@sbcglobal.net.

The new digital sign at Kirkwood Road has been installed. The former street sign was erected back in the mid-90’s and Roger Stream has been responsible for changing the messages on it since it was installed. Thank you to the donors for funding the new sign and to those on the Building & Grounds Committee who worked to get it installed.
